

Opportunities and risks of the intelligent, connected cloud

As organizations embrace the opportunities presented by cloud and mobile computing to connect with customers, build a remote workforce, and optimize operations, they expose themselves to new risks.

In other words, technology has changed the way enterprises conduct business.

98% of companies have embraced the cloud

43% of the global workforce will be mobile in 3 years

1.88B workers will be using digital productivity tools by 2023

Therefore, CIOs and CTOs must find new approaches to keep up with evolving threats.

33% of successful enterprise attacks will be on shadow IT resources

$3.5B were lost to cybercriminals in the US in 2019
