

Consolidate devices to empower IT

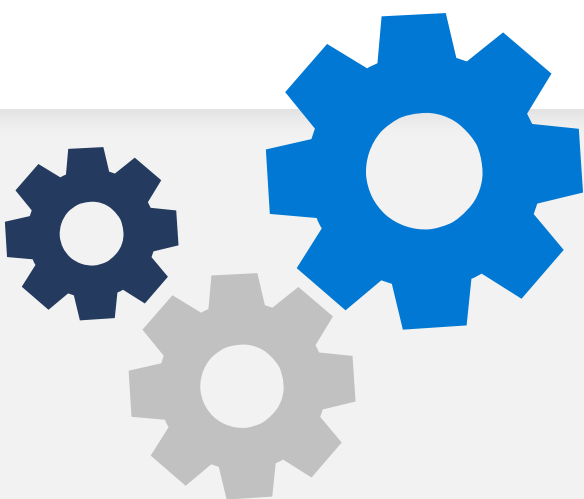

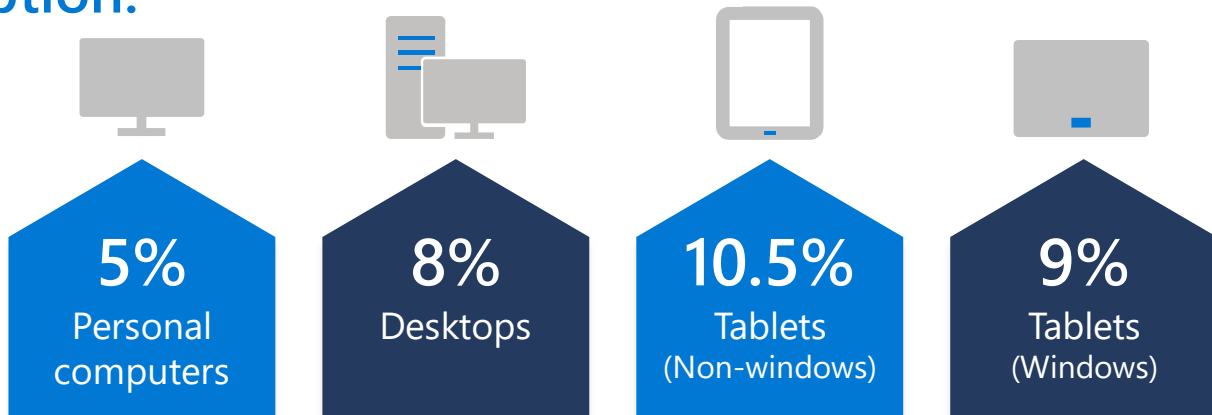

Retiring legacy devices makes your company more agile and productive

Microsoft Surface enables your organization to retire and eliminate redundant devices

Prior to investing in Microsoft 365-powered Surface devices, customers relied on a variety of third-party collaboration, communication, security, and mobility technologies purchased from multiple vendors.

Percentage reduction in total devices after Surface adoption:

78% of respondents agree they have reduced IT time and labor for configuring and deploying Surface devices vs. non-Surface devices

Device configuration and deployment times were reduced by 24

minutes per device

We used to provision applications, configure devices and security settings at the device level. Now, with Microsoft 365 and Microsoft Surface, this process is very simple. We can configure monitor and enable or disable features remotely from a centralized point of control.
